American & Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1857.

76 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also, in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Will make, specifications, Deeds, assignments, and all papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The agency is not only the largest in New England, but, through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, of ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not unsurpassably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that these are more than mere assertions, as they show that the Examiner, and not counsel is the best proof of advantages and ability, he wants and that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove that, at no other office of the kind are the facilities for prosecuting services to inventors.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, unrivalled in extensive library of legal and mechanical works and the accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

Hon. ELIJAH HALE,

Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of procuring their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,

Late Chief Clerk of Patents.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me Twenty-two applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on the part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TASKER.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

TELEGRAPHIC

From our "Postscript" of yesterday.

BALTIMORE, 3d—1 A M.

The American has the following account from Gettysburg:

Major Brugartin and another officer of the staff of General Reynolds, arrived here yesterday with the body of General Reynolds. From Major Brugartin we learn some particulars of the battle, and are happy to be able to say it closed for the day with the army of Gen. Meade in a most advantageous position either for attack or defense. Nearly all the remaining divisions of our army reached the field shortly after the brunt of the day.

At 8 o'clock Wednesday forenoon the 7th and 11th corps reached Gettysburg, entering from the east side of the town; and marching directly through to the west side, the cavalry force of the enemy in town retreating as we advanced.

In passing out the west end of the town the enemy was observed, advancing rapidly from the Chambersburg turnpike in line of battle on the town, evidently endeavoring to hold an advantageous post commanding the town.

The 1st corps, under Gen Reynolds, pushed forward at double quick to secure an advantageous position.

The enemy, under Longstreet and Hill, advanced steadily, and in a few minutes, a heavy fire of both artillery and musketry was opened along the whole of the federal and rebel lines.

The 11th army corps, under Howard, was soon in position, and for a time quite a heavy battle raged.

Several charges were made by the enemy to dislodge our forces, all of which were unsuccessful.

At 3 o'clock the enemy massed his entire forces, and endeavored to turn our right.

Gen. Reynolds advanced to meet them, and a heavy infantry fight ensued, in which both sides severely, volley after volley of musketry being poured into opposing columns with deadly effect. In this charge Also Gen. Reynolds fell, mortally wounded, and soon after being conveyed to Gettysburg, died. He was, as usual, leading his corps, and in the thickest of the fight. Gen. Paul, commanding the 3d Brigade, 1st corps, was also killed on the field, and Colonels Wister and Stone wounded and taken prisoners. The field between the contending armies is strewn with dead and wounded. It is said that the enemy suffered fully as heavy as we, although it is not known what their loss was in officers.

To effect to flank our right wing entirely failed, and we hold the prominent and commanding position for which the struggle was made, at the close of the fight, which ceased for the day at half past 4 P. M.

At this time two more corps of Meade's army reached the field, and during the night the main body of our army was in position to meet any demonstration the enemy might make in the forenoon, or to advance on him, as the commanding General might decide. The 1st army corps nobly maintained its position against the enemy, and held its right, and scarcely faltered for a moment, when its gallant commander fell under a murderous fire of the enemy.

A great and decisive battle was considered imminent, and notwithstanding our severe loss in officers, the advantages of the day were ours.

Meade, it was thought, had concentrated his forces to a greater extent than the enemy, a large portion of whose army was scattered up through the Cumberland valley.

WASHINGTON, 2d.

The following was received to-day at the headquarters of the army—

Headquarters, Army of Cumberland,
Tullahoma, Tenn., 1st
Via Murfreesboro, 2d

Gen Maj Gen. Halleck, Gen in-Chief—

I telegraphed you Sunday the occupation of Shelbyville and Manchester.

On Monday it rained hard all day, rendering the roads impassible. It was found impossible to move our artillery or to get troops into position until this forenoon, when a general advance was ordered.

Gen. Thomas yesterday made a reconnoissance on two roads, and Gen. McCook on one road, reporting the enemy in force at this place, with the addition of Buckner's Division, which arrived Monday evening. On advancing this A. M. it was found that the enemy had fled in haste last night, with much demoralization, leaving strong fortifications and three siege guns in our possession. They took the direction of Winchester, Tenn. Gen. Thomas started on their track to-night. Gens. Sheridan and Brannan marched into town at 11 30 to-day, taking a few prisoners.

Signed W. S. ROSECRANS,
Major General.

[Evening Despatches to the Times.]

Highly Important from Vicksburg.—Last from the Battle Field in Pennsylvania.—Heavy Loss of Officers in the 16th Maine.

NEW YORK, 3d.

A special dispatch to the Tribune, dated Carlisle, Pa., July 2, says—

The battle was renewed this morning, and continued up to 4 o'clock, our forces gaining upon the rebels when our messenger left the field.

Since 5 o'clock the firing has been much heavier and more rapid, indicating a general engagement.

Gen. Lee's forces are said to be concentrated four miles northeast of Gettysburg.

This afternoon, Sedgwick's corps is reported pressing on the rear of the enemy. The second army corps is moving up from Hanover this morning.

The reported burning of Gettysburg by the rebels is unfounded. Only two buildings were destroyed by shells in the suburbs.

The Tribune's special Washington dispatch says Gen. Meade in a telegram received to day, says that all appearances last night indicate that there would be a pitched battle between the two armies to-day.

Yesterday Hill and Ewell fought two of our corps, and Longstreet, with whom was Lee, also appeared to be endeavoring to get into the action.

Gen. Reynolds fell early in the battle, while placing his men in position. He took pains that no one should know he had received his death wound, until he had ridden some distance out of the action, when he quietly got off his horse and announced that he was seriously wounded, and directed a surgeon to be sent for.

The New York Times gives the following, dated "Rear of Vicksburg, Wednesday, June 24th."—Up to yesterday all marching was going on along the whole line of our rear front, or rather that portion of it from Snyder's Bluff to the Big Black railroad crossing, there being every indication of a fight imminent. The rear front was put in order to resist an assault. During the previous night we lost a picket of 300 men near Bear Creek, seven miles from Snyder's Bluff.

On the same day the 4th Iowa cavalry were attacked by a superior rebel cavalry force on the Bridgeport Ferry road. They were repulsed after a hard fight.

Yesterday, Gen. Osterhaus was attacked at Big Black, and a severe battle ensued. The rebels fought with great obstinacy and spirit, and were after a long engagement, repulsed with great slaughter.

The guns of the Cincinnati have been removed by Gen Steele and put in position in a land battery. They opened this morning.

A fleet of transports coming down with ordinance and commissary stores were fired into at Cypress Bend day before yesterday. The Prima Donna received 22 shots, and was disabled. The Kentucky towed her down. James Thompson, clerk of the Quartermaster at Helena, was killed by a six pound shot on the Kentucky. The rebels had six 6-pounder guns. The gunboats drove them off, and the fleet came through in safety.

NEW YORK, 3d.

The World's Washington special dispatch says that during the evacuation of Maryland Heights, a premature explosion of a gun occurred, with the following casualties to the Massachusetts 14th, who arrived here to-day: Sergt. George Graham, fatal; Walter B Reed, Charles F. Mills, all of Co. C, and of Lynn; and Edward Joyce, Co. H, of Andover.

Highly important advices reached here at midnight, of yesterday's battle in Pennsylvania. There seems to be little or no doubt but that a brilliant victory has been won. The enemy has not only been repulsed, but several thousand prisoners have been taken, together with a corresponding amount of arms and ammunition.

Our loss has been quite large, but has thus far resulted in a decided success so far as can be learned.

The battle was not renewed to-day.

Details of yesterday's engagement are immediately anticipated.

NEW YORK, 3d.

The Tribune's Washington special says: The expedition which departed during the evacuation of Maryland Heights, killed 10 and wounded 40 soldiers of the 5th and 6th Maryland regiments. All the wounded were removed to Washington.

A regiment of cavalry recently stationed at Frederick, arrived at Washington coming along the Potomac.

The country between Frederick and Poosville is undisturbed.

Three brigades of rebels passed through Seneca on Monday, going towards Middlburg.

The wounded of yesterday's battle are to be taken to Baltimore, Harrisburg and New York.

NEW YORK, 3d.

Correspondence from Fortress Monroe to the World dated the 1st says:

Our forces all remain at White House, and when removed will return and proceed to Maryland.

The 43d Massachusetts regiment was at Fortress Monroe awaiting transportation home.

An officer from North Carolina says the North Carolina soldiers hate the confederates much more than they do the federal soldiers.

There is no photo firing at all; in fact our pickets and those of the North Carolina rebels meet together fraternally, and interchange friendly sentiments with the greatest cordiality.

NEW YORK, 3d.

Detailed accounts of the fight at Gettysburg (Wednesday) appear in the Herald this morning, but all the material facts were telegraphed last night.

Our batteries were served splendidly, doing great damage to the rebels.

A correspondent present at the battle says:

We fell back to a position southeast of the town cemetery which General Howard had first selected as the only good position that we could secure. The rebels did not think it best to attempt to dislodge us.

The enemy occupied the town on our retirement, and their sharpshooters were stationed on houses near by.

The battle to-day was well fought. We had 22,000 against 50,000. General Howard distinguished himself for bravery and composure while directing the details of battle. The 11th corps did more than all others. It lost, 3000 men and doubled the loss of the 1st corps, which fought bravely.

The ladies of Gettysburg deserve especially honorable attention. While we were retreating they came out upon the sidewalks with compressed though pale faces, and offered our soldiers every thing needful in the way of refreshments. The shot were whistling meanwhile, but they appeared elevated by noble impulses above the sentiment of fear. They took the most tender care of our wounded, as well as those of the rebels who were captured during the day. How we grieved to leave this interesting town in the hands of rebel soldiers.

Gen Schimmelpfenning's horse was shot under him on the retreat, and he was captured. It is presumed that he was wounded and possibly killed before being taken.

PHILADELPHIA, 3d.

The Press of this city has the following special:

Wrightville, Pa., 2d—midnight.

Our forces are known to have gained upon the enemy until 4 o'clock this afternoon. The rebel forces is concentrating on Smith Mountain towards Carlisle, six miles north of Gettysburg. General Sedgwick's corps passed York in the direction of Dover, at 4 o'clock this forenoon. It is in the rear of the enemy.

The two army corps moved up from Hanover at 8 o'clock this forenoon.

NEW YORK, 3d.

The Herald prints the following latest despatch—

Gettysburg, Pa., 2d—6 A M.

Major General Newton, of the 3d division of the 6th corps, has been assigned to the command of the 1st corps, made vacant by the death of Major General Reynolds. This is an excellent appointment.

BALTIMORE, July 3d—1 A M.

Advices from the front state that up to eight o'clock yesterday, fighting had not been generally renewed at Gettysburg. General Meade had arrived and was arranging the details for the coming fray. Everything looks favorable for the success of the army.

PHILADELPHIA, 3d.

The Evening Bulletin learns from parties who have arrived in this city, the following particulars:

The fight opened at Gettysburg on Wednesday when our forces were about half a mile beyond the town. But one brigade of the corps of Gen Reynolds was in position to do service at the opening of the struggle. Gen Reynolds gallantly pushed that brigade to a commanding position on Seminary Hill, and endeavored to hold it until the rest of the corps could come up.

Reinforcements were, however, delayed. Our forces subsequently fell back of the hostility still-and Seminary Hill.

About 10,000 of our men engaged in this fight with 80,000 of the enemy. The last position taken by the Union forces was held up to the latest dates.

General Reynolds was killed early in the action while leading his men in position.

During Wednesday night about 75,000 of Gen Meade's troops came up and took favorable positions for renewing the battle on Thursday morning, while at that time some 25,000 other Union troops belonging to the army of the Potomac were in near at hand as to be immediately available for the conflict.

The rebels had mainly concentrated their forces near Gettysburg Wednesday night, and there was but little doubt that the great battle of yesterday would involve every available man of both armies.

NEW YORK, 3d

The Philadelphia Inquirer adds the following to the list of casualties in New England regiments—16th Maine, Capt. Whitesides, killed.

Among other prominent officers killed is found the name of Gen Paul, Gen Wadsworth severely wounded; Gen. Robinson for the third time had a horse shot from under him.

FORT HAMILTON, 3d.

The prisoners confined in Fort Lafayette were yesterday removed to Fort Warren. Men are now at work mounting guns and strengthening the means of defence.

NEW YORK, 3d.

The Post has the following special from Washington—

The militia of the District of Columbia are under arms to-day.

The 27th Maine regiment, whose term of service has expired, re-enlisted to-day.

It is understood that Lee is now attempting to carry out the finale of his plans—that of advancing on Baltimore and Washington, more particularly the latter city.

Even if he gets rid of General Meade's large army, he cannot successfully approach the fortifications at this point. The officials feel doubly certain, to say nothing of the rebels' inability to whip Meade.

GREAT SALE OF PINE TIMBER LANDS.

THE ST MARY'S FALLS SHIP CANAL COMPANY will offer at public auction, in the city of Detroit, on the second day of September next, of Pine Timber Lands lying in the State of Michigan, which were selected with great care nearly ten years since. It is estimated by good judges that these lands comprise at least one half of all the pine timber lands in the state, which are equal to them in quality and position.

525,000 ACRES

The facilities which Michigan affords for manufacturing and transporting lumber are so great, the consumption is so large, and the area of pine timber lands between the Alleganies and the Rocky Mountains is so small, that the value of these lands must yearly advance in a constantly increasing ratio.

For the purpose of the sale the lands have been arranged in a large number of groups, with a minimum price affixed upon each group, at an average of about $10 per acre, so that the inducement to purchase is not only very great to lumbermen but also to others who may be seeking to make safe and profitable investments.

The sales of the Company will be received at par in payment of purchases made at the sale to an amount equal to 9½ per cent. of the whole purchase money, in remainder, 81 per cent, to be paid in cash.

UNION NOMINATION.

FOR GOVERNOR

SAMUEL CONY.

STATE OF MAINE, EXECUTIVE MANSION, }
AUGUSTA, June 27, 1863. }

To the Hon. Chief Justice and Associate Justices of the Supreme Judicial Court:

Various towns in this State are voting in public meeting three hundred dollars as a commutation in money for each of their citizens that may be drafted into the military service of the United States, under the law passed by the last Congress, and approved March 3, 1863, entitled "An Act for enrolling and calling out the National forces, and for other purposes."

It is feared by many good citizens that serious complications and embarrassments may result to the towns which pledge their credit to raise money to supply these commutations, as well as to individuals who advance the money therefor.

The Constitution of this State authorizes the Governor to require the "Opinions" of the Justices of the Supreme Judicial Court "upon important questions of law, and upon solemn occasions."

Under this power, I deem it my duty to ask the opinion of the Court upon the legal questions involved in the following interrogatories, viz:

1—Has a City or Town any legal right to pledge its credit to raise money for the purpose of paying the commutations of such of its citizens as may be drafted into the military service of the United States, under the law aforesaid.

2—Has a City or Town any legal right to raise money by taxation to provide commutations for such of its citizens as may be thus drafted?

I have the honor to remain,
Yours, very respectfully,
ABNER COBURN,
Gov. of Maine.

AUGUSTA, July 2d, 1863.

Sir—The undersigned have the honor to submit the following answers to the interrogatories proposed in your communication of the 27th of June last.

By the express terms of the Constitution Congress has power to declare war; to raise and support armies; to provide and maintain a navy; to make rules for the Government and regulation of the land and naval forces; to provide for calling forth the militia to execute the laws of the Union and suppress insurrection and rebel invasion; to provide for organizing and disciplining the militia, and for governing such part of them as may be employed in the service of the United States; and to make all laws which shall be necessary and proper for carrying into execution the foregoing powers, &c. The power of Congress in the premises is supreme. In a great national emergency, when the national unity and republican institutions are in peril, whether from foreign foes or worse still, from domestic enemies, treasonably endeavoring to overthrow the Union and subvert our institutions, it has the right to command all the resources of the nation, the lives of its citizens, to prevent by any and all proper means that fearful anarchy, which would be so imminent, if its dissolution should become an accomplished fact.

In pursuance of the powers thus briefly indicated, and to meet the present crisis, the act of Congress approved March 3d, 1863, chap. 73, entitled an act for enrolling and calling out the national forces, and for other purposes, was passed.

By section 13 it was enacted that any person drafted and notified to appear as aforesaid, may, on or before the day fixed for his appearance, furnish an acceptable substitute to take his place in the draft; or he may pay to such person as the Secretary of War may authorize to receive it, such sum not exceeding three hundred dollars, as the Secretary may determine, for the procuration of such substitute, which sum shall be fixed at a uniform rate by a general order made at the time of ordering a draft for any State or Territory; and thereupon such person so furnishing the substitute or paying the money shall be discharged from further liability under that draft, &c.

As Congress has the power to require and command the services of each citizen, so it may prescribe the mode and manner for obtaining such services. The obligation of obedience rests upon the citizen. It is part of the duty he owes the government, which protects his rights. The duty is personal—that of each citizen. If drafted, the service must be his personal service. If a substitute is procured, "the procuration of such substitute" is to be made by the person drafted. If commutation money be paid, he is to make such payment. True, a friend may volunteer as a substitute or may aid in procuring the money to pay whatever sum may be determined upon by the Secretary of War as the price of exemption, as he may aid him in discharging any other personal liability. But the liability to serve, to procure a substitute who shall be accepted, or to pay the sum fixed as a commutation are all none the less personal duties and liabilities. They are as much personal liabilities as the obligation to pay a tax duly assessed, to discharge a debt due, or to perform an act, the performance of which is imposed by contract or by statute. It will be perceived then, that the question amounts to this; whether a town legally raise money gratuitously, to discharge the pecuniary obligations of its citizens or to procure their exemption from military or other service. Is such a power conferred upon the municipal corporations of this State?

The general power of towns to raise money is given by the Revised Statutes, 1858, chap. 3, sec. 26, in these words—"The qualified voters of a town may raise such sums as are necessary for the maintenance and support of schools and the poor; for making and repairing highways and town ways and bridges; for the purchasing and repairing and fencing burying grounds; for purchasing or building and keeping in repair a hearse and house therefor for the exclusive use of its citizens, and for other necessary town charges." By subsequent acts further powers have been conferred upon towns, and the exercise of doubtful powers has been confirmed by legislative authority. But the raising of money under statutory provisions to co-operate with the general government, is manifestly to be distinguished from raising money for purposes unauthorized by any existing law.

The words "other necessary town charges" do not constitute a new and distinct grant of indefinite and unlimited power to raise money for any purpose whatever at the will and pleasure of a majority. They embrace all incidental expenses arising directly or indirectly in the due and legitimate exercise of the various powers conferred by Statute.

While towns may raise money to discharge all liabilities in the performance of these multiplied municipal duties, they cannot (unless new powers are conferred, or an excess of power receives a subsequent legal ratification) transcend their authority and incur liabilities in no way arising in the course of its exercise. Thus it has been held by this court that the raising a tax for the discharge of a contract entered into by a town with the corporation of a toll bridge for the free passage of its citizens over it, was illegal. It has likewise been held under similar statutes, in other States, that a town had no right to raise money for the celebration of any great national event, as the capture of Cornwallis or the Declaration of Independence. So it was decided in Emery vs. Hooper, 14 Maine, 395, in the very clear and conclusive opinion of Mr. Justice Shepley, that a town had no authority to raise money for the purpose of re-distributing it among its citizens. Much more, then, have they no right to raise money to give as a mere gratuity to one or more citizens to enable them to escape the performance of services, which every citizen should cheerfully render as due to government, upon the prosperity and perpetuity of which the future hopes of humanity must rest.

Were a town to raise money to be distributed by way of gift to favored individuals, the tax assessed for such a purpose could not for a moment be upheld. Still less could it be, when the obvious and inevitable tendency of it would be to defeat the objects for which the act of Congress before referred to was passed. That was a bill to raise soldiers, not to raise money. Its primary and especial purpose was to suppress insurrection by means of an armed force, to be raised in pursuance of its provisions. If one town may assess taxes to pay the commutation money of those who may be drafted, so may all, and the Government may be left without a soldier for its protection, and the nation surrendered into the power of those who are warring for its destruction; the wealth and taxable property of the community would be diverted from the defence of government, and the resources of the State would be turned to its destruction by thus depriving it of the means necessary for its preservation. We therefore answer each of the interrogatories in the negative.

PRESQUE ISLE, June 27th, 1863.

At a town meeting held this day, on petition of ten or more of the members of the so called Presque Isle Democratic Club, to see if the inhabitants of said town would vote to pay three hundred dollars each to such persons as may be drafted into the service of the United States under the conscription act, the following was the vote as declared and taken by yeas and nays—in favor, twenty-seven (27) against, sixty-eight, (68) after which the following preamble and resolutions were adopted as indicating the sentiments of the Town:

Whereas, A large majority of the able bodied men of the town of Presque Isle who were subject to military duty under conscription, and nearly half the voters of the town have voluntarily gone into the army for the defence of their country, and whereas in that noble cause many of them are still struggling, and many others have fallen in battle or sunk in hospitals to fill heroic graves, and whereas those still struggling in that patriotic cause are sending out to the country the "macedonian cry" to go and help them. Feeling deeply our obligations to do all that yet remains in our power in so noble a cause, and that the heroic sacrifices already made should not and must not be in vain, and whereas we recognize in the attempt made this day a disposition to make loyal men and tax payers offer a premium to some disloyal persons to stay at home, or evade their duty as recommended by the Portland Advertiser and endorsed by the Bangor Democrat of the 16th inst., therefore

Resolved, That we the inhabitants of Presque Isle, in town meeting assembled, are still determined to do all that yet remains in our power to put down the rebellion at home and at the seat of war, and that we will take good care that the little spirit of traitorous sympathy manifested in our midst, instigated and mostly encouraged by the Bangor Democrat and other kindred sheets, shall not expand amongst us, beyond the narrow limits of conception to which it is confined.

Resolved, That such being the sentiments of the citizens of Presque Isle we respectfully request the loyal papers in the State to publish the above preamble and resolution.

Voted, that the Town Clerk be requested to forward to the loyal papers of the State copies of these proceedings.

A true copy—Attest:

Town Clerk.

MARSTON'S

PHOTOGRAPH ROOMS

RE-OPENED!

Having Repaired and Enlarged my Rooms to double their former size and put new Pyramid Ground Glass Light, the first and only one in the State of Maine, I feel confident I have by far the largest and most convenient Rooms in the state, having two separate lights and two Cameras at the same time, and not oblige customers to wait so long as they have to where but one Light and one Apparatus. I cannot boast of having spent much of my time in all the Photograph Rooms between Bangor and the Potomac—but I have passed through Boston, New York and some other towns with long names, and have seen Willard's Hotel in Washington, now think I am qualified to make good Pictures. During my absence I have bought a good lot of

Ambrotype and Photograph Goods,

Consisting of all kinds of French and American Frames, Card Racks, Card Porter Photograph Albums, all sizes and qualities, and every style and pattern of Cases that I could find in the market, and am pleased to sell at fair prices. And here I would say, my goods were bought as low as I want cash, and I will sell as low as the same quality goods can be had in town. I bought my goods at 50 per cent less than cost to sell my customers so that purchasers of me will get good goods and pay small profits. CALL AND SEE FOR YOURSELVES. To those who favor me with their patronage, I would say, I give my personal attention to my business, and will do my best to please.

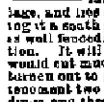
For one of the Best Farms in Penobscot County.



The subscriber will sell his Farm situated in Sebec. It contains six hundred acres—fifty acres has been under cultivation—two hundred and fifty acres of good pasture—the remainder wood land. Said Farm comes into Sebec Village, and lies on the north side of Sebec Lake, giving it a south pent. It is good soil, high and dry—as well fenced, and under a high state of cultivation. It will cut this year forty tons of hay, and would cut much more by taking up what has been turned out to pasture. The buildings are a double tenement two story house, with the usual out buildings, and three barns—all well finished and painted. It is well calculated for a Sheep Farm. It will be sold with all the crops, tools, and sixty sheep if required. It will be sold so low that speculators would do well to look to it. Possession given immediately. Come now and look while the crops are on it. Enquire of the subscriber on the farm, or S. P. GILMAN, of Orono. JOHN H. GILMAN.

Special to the Times.

Battlefield, near Gettysburg, July 3d—3 a m

At the close of my last despatch, 4:30 p m, yesterday afternoon afternoon, the enemy had made a heavy attack by artillery on our left [illegible] The history of the enemy was soon [illegible] meeting of their main strength on [illegible] which covered the Fredrick Road, with [illegible] intention to crush it. My intent were the [illegible] purpose, that every other part of [illegible] left alone

The fighting was most desperate on both sides [illegible] men fought as they never fought before. We stood against this great onslaught of the enemy, the 2d, 3d and 5th corps The 1st [illegible] hands and fought heroically.—[illegible] repulsed them, and at same time [illegible] the 1st division of 1st corps [illegible] engaged.

[illegible] both days was furious neither party took many prisoners The losses, considering the du[illegible] brought, was more than usually heavy [illegible] Many of our gallant officers [illegible]

[illegible] Brooks right leg was shot off—amputa[illegible] has been performed, and he is doing well

Late on Thursday Gen Meade called coun[illegible] heads, and it was resolved to [illegible] fought as long as any one was left to [illegible]

NEW YORK, 3d.

A dispatch from Headquarters Army of the [illegible] says the contest on Wednesday [illegible] skirmishing, terminating at [illegible] Longstreet was in command, and [illegible] Hill's corps.

[illegible] early part of the day our forces [illegible] an impression on the rebels, when [illegible] reserves and all were called to the [illegible] of battle. The result may be [illegible]

We advanced rapidly and met the enemy in [illegible] and attacked him with the 1st corps We [illegible] strong and fell back, until joined by [illegible] corps. Renewed the attack and re[illegible] ground.

Gens Wadsworth, Barlow and Doubleday are reported wounded, Gen Baxter reported killed, and Gen Steinwehr wounded Our wounded are at Gettysburg will be taken care off.

The forces at Gettysburg were largely reinforced Sunday night

General Meade is in front superintending operations.

WASHINGTON, 3d

The Republican of this afternoon says the Government has a despatch dated Vicksburg, June 27th, stating that the siege was progressing favorably. No mention is made of rebels in Grant's rear

CAIRO, Kaskaskaw Baron, 29th, via Cairo, 3d

A great stream from the front reports everything as at stake

Operations continue against the the rebel works but the firing is better than two days ago The rebels still dispute our hold on Fort Hill

Colonel Malmedow Smith died of his wounds yesterday

Col Hamerable was mortally wounded by a grenade while entering the fort.

Johnston's advance is said to be a few miles from our outer pickets, but with only a show of force It is expected nothing can be more desirable than a rear attack, as everything is prepared

NEW YORK, 3d.

The Herald has New Orleans letters of the 26th ult.

Brashear City was captured by the rebels on the 20th, with all the troops, artillery, &c, there Our loss was 1060 men, including a camp of 600 convalescents, and 19 or 20 pieces of artillery of heavy calibre

Our outposts have fallen back to Butte Station, 20 miles from New Orleans.

A party of workmen repairing the railroad bridge over Pass Manchac were captured by the rebels.

The correspondent says as far as New Orleans is concerned, the city is secure The guns of the fleet command the city, and General Emory has disposed of his command so that he can effectually defend every point.

From Port Hudson there is nothing new The bombardment continues, and another assault was expected on the 27th.

BALTIMORE, 3d.

The brief and rancid statement of our situation up to this forenoon is that in Wednesday's fight we were repulsed simply because we were overpowered and so flanked We fell back to the rear of Gettysburg and held that position The action was not general and was not intended to be by General Meade It was brought on by General Reynolds, under the impression that his force exceeded that of the enemy

There was no fighting yesterday until 4:30 P M. A bloody engagement was then fought lasting until dark, resulting in substantial success to our forces, the enemy being repulsed with great loss.

Neither Gens Wadsworth, Van Steinwehr nor Doubleday are wounded.

The total number of prisoners taken up to this forenoon was about 1500. This is reliable.

The enemy made an attack yesterday. It was terrific, and they threw their whole force into it, but were repulsed with great slaughter.

At daylight this forenoon the battle was renewed It was the determination of our Generals to fight to the bitter end

PORTLAND, 3d

The 25th and 27th Regiments will arrive about 10 o'clock, and will be received by the City Government at the City Hall, where an excellent collation is provided.

NEW YORK, July 3d

A special despatch to the Times, dated on the battlefield, Thursday noon, says no general engagement has yet taken place, though a great battle will be fought this afternoon or tomorrow. The enemy is in great force. Our troops are all up and well in hand. The rebels occupy Pennsylvania college as a hospital There has been skirmishing all the morning. Both armies are preparing for a great contest Our troops are in splendid condition and fight like veterans.

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
Washington, 3d.

General Order No 109—

1st—The attention of all persons in military service of the United States is called to article 7th of the cartel agreed upon July 22d, 1862, and published in general orders No 142, Sept. 26th, 1862. According to terms of this cartel all captures must be reduced to actual possession, and all prisoners of war must be delivered at the places designated, there to be exchanged or paroled until exchange can be effected. The only exception allowed is in the case of the commanders of the two opposing armies who were authorized to exchange prisoners or to release them on parole at other points, mutually agreed on by said commanders

2d—It is understood that captured officers and men have been paroled and release on the field by others than commanders of opposing armies, and that the sick and wounded in hospital have been so paroled and released in order to avoid guarding and removing them, which, in many cases, would have been impossible. Such paroles are in violation of general orders and the stipulations of the cartel, and are null and void They are not regarded by the enemy, and will not be respected in the armies of United States Any officer or soldier who gives such parole will be returned to duty without exchange, and moreover, will be punished for disobedience of order It is the duty of a captor to guard his prisoners, and if, through necessity or chance he fails to do this, it is the duty of prisoner to return to the service of his government. He can't avoid this duty by giving an authorized military parole.

3d—A military parole not to serve until exchanged, must not be confounded with a parole of honor to do or not to do a particular thing not inconsistent with the duty of a soldier.—Thus a prisoner of war actually held by the enemy may, in order to obtain exemption from a close guard or confinement, pledge his parole of honor he will make no attempts to escape.—Such pledges are binding upon individuals giving them, but they should seldom be given or required, for it is the duty of a prisoner to escape if able to do so. Any pledge or parole of honor extorted from a prisoner by ill usage or cruelty is not binding.

4th—The obligations imposed by the general laws and usages of war upon the contraband inhabitant of the sections of country passed over by an invading army ceases when military occupation ceases, and any pledge or parole given by such persons in regard to future service is null and of no effect.

By order of Sec'y of War,
E. D. TOWNSEND, A. A. G

FORTRESS MONROE, 2d

The committee appointed by the common council of the city of Portsmouth Va, to investigate the matter of the issue of $50,000 in city scrip by the rebel city government, previous to the evacuation of the city by the rebels, have passed the following resolutions:

1st—That the city council of Portsmouth utterly repudiate the issue of notes of former councils of this city, and do order the collection relating thereto be and is hereby rescinded.

2d—That officers of the city government be prohibited from receiving the same in payment of taxes, licenses or any debts due the city.

These resolutions are to be in force from the passage thereof.

Steamer Kennebec left this afternoon for Baltimore, with the 43d Massachusetts Regiment, Colonel Chas Holbrook. They have offered their services to government though their term of service has already expired.

WASHINGTON, 3d.

Admiral Goldsborough has been appointed President of a Board for the final examination of the class of midshipmen who entered the naval academy in 1859

The opinion of the Solicitor of the War Department in relation to the arrest of deserters is published. It is to the effect that a Provost Marshal is to decline to produce a deserter to subject him to process of court on the writ of habeas corpus, for the reason that it would be inconsistent with and in violation of duty of respondent, and that it is his legal duty to deliver the deserter to nearest military commander or military post.

Some of the militia mustered today in obedience to the order of the President calling out the 20th Regiment, already organized, save the uniformed cavalry and infantry companies.—They are to serve the United States sixty days.

It is stated that about 100 of Mosby's guerrillas was last seen about two miles this side of Vienna, and Fairfax Court House, his headquarters.

A gang of rebels, supposed to be a portion of the same band, are now building Arabs, in London Co. They have of late been hovering in front of the northernmost on the other side of the Potomac.

EMBARGO, 3d

A private letter from Galliat says, steamer Ben Banks tried to run the blockade but was obliged to put back by meeting a federal gunboat which was watching her.

NEW YORK, 3d.

Steamer Morning Star from New Orleans, 27th, has arrived She brings no news

NEW YORK, 3d.

Steamer Daddy Buck from Newcern has arrived.

U S steamer James Adger from a cruise has arrived.

BALTIMORE, 3d

The body of Colonel Cross of the 6th New Hampshire regiment arrived here to-day, and will leave for New Hampshire Saturday evening at 8 o'clock He was killed yesterday near Gettysburg.

PHILADELPHIA, 3d—11 p m.

There are stirring rumors in town. A report is current here that rebel General Longstreet is killed.

WASHINGTON, 3d.

General Longstreet is reported killed, but there is no confirmation.

HARRISBURG, 3d.

A prominent citizen of Gettysburg, who left there yesterday forenoon with a pass issued by General Ewell, to go to Hanleburg, met Stuart, Fitz Hugh Lee, and Wade Hampton, with what he estimates at 10, 000 cavalry, they were moving in the direction of Gettysburg. Their officers told him it was no intention of leaving Pennsylvania, but was going to remain here until his army was done capturing and plundering.

The gentleman arrived here this evening, the enemy making no effort to detain him

A despatch from Hanover this afternoon states that yesterday the rebels left Chambersburg, taking the road in the direction of Gettysburg. Before leaving, they burned the depot and workshops belonging to the railroad. Loudon is 14 miles west of Chambersburg

The enemy also evacuated Shippensburg yesterday morning, going in the same direction

Everything goes to show that Lee has his whole army concentrated between Carlistown and Gettysburg.

Later FROM THE Fight at Gettysburg

News to Noon of the 3d.

The Contest Still Progressing.

Lee's Whole Army Concentrating at Gettysburg

Major General Sigel Ordered to Pennsylvania.

INTERESTING NEWS FROM ROSECRANS.

The Rebels Fear an Advance by Burnside into East Tennessee.

WASHINGTON, 4th—2 a m.

The latest official information from General Meade is up to 12.30, Friday noon All quiet up to that time. Considerable firing, both of artillery and infantry had taken place in various parts of our line up to that time, and several hundred prisoners have been taken since this morning

WASHINGTON, 3d

The information received here as to the effect that the battle last night was extremely fierce and stubborn. Heavy and determined assaults were made by the enemy, which were repulsed by our troops. This forenoon at daylight the contest was spiritedly resumed. Our army drove the enemy, who in turn drove us. The fighting was desperately severe, and the fiercest, probably of the war.

Latest intelligence received here was up to noon to day. Rebel mail matter was captured. Among the letters it is reported there is a letter from Jeff Davis to Lee, in which he says he can send to him no more troops, as Richmond is seriously threatened,

NEW YORK, 3d.

Special to the Times:

Gettysburg 3d.

The third day's battle began at 4 o'clock this forenoon. It is now 7 o'clock, and a circle of fire of musketry and artillery on the south side of Gettysburg describes the field of the contest The musketry fight is wholly within the woods Our artillery occupies the eminences shorn of timber The attack was commenced by the rebels on our right. The fight there has been unceasing. Our men are in the best of spirits and general officers feel confident of results. The last one has been planned and fought by General Meade

Battle-field 7 15 A M—General Barksdale of Mississippi is lying dead within our lines The death of Longstreet is confirmed by prisoners taken this forenoon

Longstreet's and Hill's corps are said to be fighting on our right.

10 o'clock A M—1600 prisoners thus far have been sent to the rear, and more are here. What the result may be today, cannot be predicted

Important despatches have been captured from Jeff Davis and Cooper to Lee. They indicate anxiety for the position of Richmond. Both decline to send Lee the reinforcements from Beauregard he asked.

PHILADELPHIA, 3d.

A special despatch to Forney's Press, dated Hanover 1 P M, via Washington 3d, says at 10 this forenoon our forces opened on about 5000 rebels, who advanced on the field at daybreak for the purpose of pillaging our dead. The rebels hastily retreated. The fight thus far has been the most terrific of the war. Loss on both sides heavy.

PHILADELPHIA, 3d

The Washington Star has the following—Maj Gen Sigel has been ordered to report to Gen Couch at Harrisburg for duty.

From a private letter dated Norfolk 1st, we learn that some 1200 or 1500 rebels made the appearance in Princess Ann County with design, it is supposed, of making a raid into Norfolk Considerable excitement exists in Norfolk in consequence.

New York, 3d.

A special to the Herald says—

[Shippensburg, 3d.

Captain Boyd has arrived with 42 prisoners, captured from Ewell's rear guard at Fayetteville yesterday, the loss of a man.

All of Lee's forces were concentrating near Gettysburg Stuart's cavalry were on their way there yesterday.

All of Lee's forces except guard have left Greencastle

TULLAHOMA, 1st.

The 2d Kentucky cavalry, in advance of Brannan's division, and the 39th Indiana mounted infantry in advance of Mardar's division entered Tullahoma at noon to-day. Gen Bragg left last night.

Gen Stearns of the rebel cavalry, was mortally wounded in the skirmish on the 30th and died to day.

The Chattanooga Rebel of 30th says editorially that considerable apprehension was manifested on reported advance of Gen. Burnside with a column of 30,000 men on East Tennessee. We hasten to dispel the fear. If Burnside does advance there are ample means to give him a warm reception, which he so earnestly desires of us—His last raid has fully awakened our War Department to the importance of preparation. In accordance with this, the new levy of troops made by Gen Vance's proclamation, has been ordered the rest. Workmen are engaged on the bridges destroyed by the enemy.

Jackson, 24th.

Advices from Vicksburg to the 23d say no assault had been made last Saturday, but Grant's works and the fleet brought their guns to bear on the garrison. The firing was kept up from 2 a m, till 10 p m. Our gunners responded briskly.

WASHINGTON, 3d.

An order has been issued calling out the militia regiments of the District of Columbia, to serve for 60 days.

LARGE SALE
FURNITURE
On Thomas' Hill,
AT AUCTION!
J. B. FOSTER, Auctioneer.
On Wednesday, July 15th, 1863

I SHALL SELL all the Lots now unsold, on the Southerly side of James Street (as per Plan of Lots made for J. W. Lowe, Esq., and recorded in the Penobscot Registry of Deeds, book 3, page 77)—beginning with Lot No. 1, adjoining the residence of Mrs. Bailey, on Union street.

Lots No 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5, front on James Street, and run back 100 feet, to an alley 4 feet wide. Lot No. 1, is 100 feet on James by 100 feet on Union St Lots 2, 3, 4, and 5, are 77 by 100 feet. Lots 8, 9, 10 11, 12, and 13, are on the Easterly side of Thomas Street—and all but No 13, are 75 by 100 feet. No 13, has a front of about 200 feet on James Street—and on Ohio street about 300 feet, and adjoins the premises of Horatio Pitcher, Esq.

To a resident of the City, these Lots need no commendation. The stranger has only to examine, to admire them. There is locality in the city that offers so many attractions for residences as Thomas' Hill Already, two of the most elegant mansions in the city have been erected there; and it cannot be long before all the vacant Lots will be taken up and occupied. These Lots combine the advantage of convenient proximity to the city with the retirancy of the country. The view from Thomas' Hill is beautiful and grand beyond description.

This sale offers a rare opportunity to any one desirous of securing a desirable location for building, and to the speculator who wants to invest where he can be sure of a profit.

The sale will be positive. One-quarter of the purchase money to be paid down; the balance on any time to suit the convenience of the purchaser—not exceeding four years—with interest.

A Plan of the Lots can be seen, by calling upon the Auctioneer, or upon J. W. LOW.
